DETAILED ACTION

Claims 1–7 are pending. Claims 5 and 6 are considered on the merits. Claims 1–4 and 7 are withdrawn from consideration as being drawn to a non-elected invention.

The Office Action mailed 1/12/04 has been withdrawn. The Office erred in entering a preliminary amendment filed 12/23/04 into the instant application. The preliminary amendment was intended for entry into another application. If applicant now knows the assigned application number of the new application, it is suggested that another preliminary amendment be submitted with the application number of the new case.

Please remember to present a list of pending claims with the next response.

Claim Rejections – 35 USC § 112

Claims 5 and 6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as containing subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventors, at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention.

Claims 5 and 6 claim compounds that are not disclosed in the body of the specification. Lack of disclosure of the identity of the compounds by means of elements such as structure which properly identify compounds, and which instead are claimed by functional features, is not sufficient description to show possession of the compounds at time of filing.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 12/23/03 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicants argue that In re Edwards, 568 F.2d 1349 is the pertinent case law with regards to written description and enablement. However, the examiner considers the pertinent case law to be University of Rochester v. G.D.Searle & Co., 68 USPQ2d 1424 (DC WNY 2003). "The inventor must be able to describe the item to be patented with such clarity that the reader is assured that the inventor actually has possession and knowledge of the unique composition that make it worth of patent protection. The patent at issue here does not do that. What the reader learns from this patent is a wish or plan or first step for obtaining a desired result....As the Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit state in a case involving similar issues, an inadequate patent description that merely identifies a plan to accomplish an intended result "is an attempt to preempt the future before it has arrived." Fiers v. Revel, 984 F.2d 1164, 1171 [25 USPQ2d 1601] (Fed. Cir. 1993).".

Conclusion

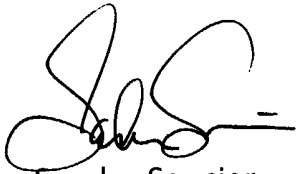

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
